BERLIN — The national Spartacus league and the greater Berlin communist organizations have issued an appeal for an immediate general strike and the overthrow of the National Assembly and the present republicans instruct their followers to assemble at factories to prevent work and direct them to avoid street demonstrations that the government may have no opportunity to crush the movement by force. Meetings were being held today at various factories to decide whether to respond to the appeal.

CITY ON VERGE OF SPRINGTIME BUILDING BOOM

Long List of Requests for Bids Looks Promising for Madison

The nation-wide increase in building operations, which has come partly as a result of a movement to secure work for returning soldiers is already being felt in Madison, and an unprecedented boom in early spring building operations here is indicated by the large number of bids, contracts and building licenses that have been issued for this locality.

A $60,000 addition to the Belmont Hotel is planned by the Piper brothers, owners, Architects Balch and Lippert have completed plans for the addition, which is to be seven stories high, and they will receive bids on April 1. The addition will contain an extension of the lobby, dining room, kitchen, cafeteria, sample rooms and an additional passenger elevator.

New $30,000 Garage
Bids for a new $30,000 garage of the Madison Battery and Service company are being received by A. E. Small, architect.

The Valeria Evaporated Milk company is making plans for the early rebuilding of the portion of the condensery at Middleton which collapsed some time ago.

William A. Wheeler, 219 Merry street, is receiving bids on a new $7,000 warehouse.

Thomas Loftus, 511 South Baldwin street, has the contract to build a $7,000 stucco building to contain two stores for a Madison owner, whose name is withheld.

Although the council has not as yet taken definite action on the appropriation, the board of education is receiving bids on the proposed new $200,000 brick vocational school for the city.

School Bids Announced
Bids for a new grade school in the seventh ward have closed, and on the general contract for the building Architect F. L. Kronenberg has received the following: Michie Construction company, Milwaukee, $66,295; Wisconsin Construction company, $55,556; Joseph Tyrrell, $61,216; Morgan and Morgan, $57,142; Charles Behrend and company, $57,176; J. H. Kelly, $59,640; Ripp and Simon, $61,253; C. B. and A. K. Fritz, $58,050; John H. Findorff, $60,370; T. C. McCarthy, $60,778; L. B. Gilbert, $60,063.

Architect A. E. Small has completed the preliminary sketches for residence at Lakewood for F. B. Hook of 105 State street.

Frank H. Beswick, 135 East Johnson street, is receiving bids for a remodeling and an addition to his residence.

Muslin 9 Cents A Yard When Hinrichs Started

The Hinrichs Dry Goods company which has been located in the Brown block for more than seventeen years, is holding a removal sale to clean out its entire stock before moving to a new home. The present location is to be remodeled for other purposes at the expiration of the lease.

Mr. Hinrich is the veteran dry goods man of the town having the record of being the longest in business here. Mr. Hinrichs remembers muslin that now sells for 35 cents a yard selling for 9 cents when he began to sell dry goods to the people of Madison more than thirty-five years ago. In that time the town has grown to four times its size.

T. S. MORRIS IS DEAD; DUE TO PNEUMONIA

Was Head of Local Paper Company; Leaves a Family

Thomas S. Morris, head of the T. S. Morris Paper company, died last night of pneumonia.

Mr. Morris was born in Fairbury, Ill., about forty-nine years ago and was educated in the public schools of that city. He entered the University of Wisconsin in 1896 and graduated with a B. L. degree in 1900. While in the university he was the manager of the Co-operative Book store and built the institution up so that it was recognized at that time as one of the most successful co-operative stores in the United States. Later Mr. Morris was the business manager of the Wisconsin State Journal.

WILSON AGAIN ON WAY TO PEACE MEET

Says Filibuster Will Injure Finances of Railroads of Nation

UNDER HEAVY GUARD

Will be on Program With Taft at New York To-night

WASHINGTON—President Wilson started on his return to Paris today after adjournment of congress had marked the close of his tremendously busy week at the Capitol.

The president's train pulled out of the station promptly at 2 o'clock. He had been given enthusiastic ovations by crowds as he and Mrs. Wilson left the White House.

The last act of the president was to issue a statement reaffirming his belief that his duty was to attend the peace conference and placing upon the "group of men in the senate" who conducted a filibuster during the closing hours of the session responsibility for the failure of necessary legislation.

Asks People Sanction
He said it was not in the interest of right conduct of public affairs that he should call Congress in special session during his absence and expressed confidence that the people would think he had made the right choice.

The president sails tomorrow for Paris with no definite promise of what the next Senate will be toward the League of Nations.

300,000 Seek Admission

NEW YORK — During President Wilson's visit in New York tonight he will speak on the League of Nations to 5,000 persons at the Metropolitan Opera house; hold a private conference with former President Taft; receive a delegation of twenty Irishmen who will request him to speak on the subject of self determination for Ireland at the peace conference and then will board the steamer George Washington which sails early tomorrow for France.

The only other features on the program at the opera house are a short address by Governor Alfred E. Smith and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by Enrico Caruso.

Although there are but 3,926 seats at the opera house demands for seats continued to pour in today and the committee in charge estimated that more than 300,000 applications had been received with two tons of mail still to be opened.

STRIKE SETTLEMENT DEMANDED BY LABOR

BUENOS AIRES — Resolutions were adopted by the Maritime Federation today informing the government that if the harbor strike is not settled by March 5, the federation will no longer consider its members influenced by the pending negotiations and will permit freedom of action by them. The strike has been in progress two months and has virtually paralyzed activities in the port of Buenos Aires.

President Denounces the Filibuster

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON—Upon the adjournment of congress today with important legislation continued by a republican senate filibuster, president Wilson issued a statement declaring that "A group of men in the senate have deliberately chosen to embarrass the administration of the government, to imperil the financial interests of the railway systems of the country."

"A group of men in the senate have deliberately chosen to embarrass the administration of the government to imperil the financial interests of the railway systems of the country and to make arbitrary use of powers intended to be employed in the interest of the people."

"It is plainly my present duty to attend the peace conference in Paris. It is also my duty to be in close contact with the public business during a session of congress. I must take my choice between these two duties and I confidently hope that the people of the country will think that I am making the right choice."

"It is not in the interest of the right conduct of public affairs that I shall call the congress in special session while it is impossible for me to be in Washington because of the more pressing duty elsewhere to co-operate with the houses."

"I take it for granted that the men who have obstructed and prevented the passage of necessary legislation have taken all of this into consideration and are willing to assume the responsibility of the impaired efficiency of the government and the embarrassed finances of the country during the time of my enforced absence."

Republican Leader Lodge declined to comment on the president's statement. He declared however, that three-fourths of the republicans sincerely deplored failure of the railroad appropriation. The few republicans who insisted upon filibustering to defeat the bill, it was stated, were "beyond control" telling their leaders that "their action was personal and not a party affair."

MIDDLETON AND SUN PRAIRIE BOOST BOOZE

Saloonkeepers at Nearby Oases Jump Prices on All Wet Goods

If you drink only a lit' beers when you visit the various thirst emporiums of Sun Prairie or Middleton the new revenue bill will not be noticed but if you should order a "schooner" be prepared for the worst. A big beer will now cost you exactly 10 cents, the new price under the revenue bill. Whiskey too has taken a jump according to patrons of the two oases. A "shot" of ordinary barrel whiskey now sells at 20 cents straight where formerly the price was 15 cents or two for a quarter and bonded whiskey sells at two bits straight. A pint bottle of beer also now costs 20 cents while a quart retails at 40 cents, an increase of five cents on a pint.

Dealers are not charging uniform prices for bottled goods at either of the drink resorts say patrons. In one of the most popular of the places "booze" not bonded, sells at $1.50 per pint while next door it retails at $1.40. Bonded or "100 proof" whiskey is offered at $3.75 cents per quart universally.

RAINBOW TROOPS MAY BOOST LOAN

WASHINGTON — Secretary Glass today asked Secretary Baker whether it would be possible to move forward the date of the return of the 42nd (Rainbow) division from April 26, the schedule embarkation date, so that the troops might parade in the United States during the Liberty Loan campaign.

LA FOLLETTE, FRANCE AND SHERMAN HOLD SENATE ALL NIGHT

President Announces That He Will Refuse To Call An Extra Session; Railroad Funds Fail

WASHINGTON—Congress adjourned at noon today in the midst of a republican filibuster in the senate that killed a long list of important measures.

Among the bills that failed was one appropriating $750,000,000 for the railroad administration, without which some administration leaders say the railroads must be returned to their owners before the middle of April.

There was no turning back of clocks. Democratic leaders realized that the situation was hopeless, and the gavels ending the long, great war session and the 65th congress actually tapped at noon.

Just before adjournment, President Wilson in his capitol office, authorized final notice to the republicans that their efforts to force an immediate extra session had failed; that he was unshaken in his determination not to call congress until his work at the Peace conference was done.

Adjournment marks the passing of democratic control at the capitol.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON—The filibuster in the senate against the general deficiency bill carrying an appropriation for the railroad administration was conducted through the night by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, France of Maryland and Sherman of Illinois.

Senator La Follette took the floor soon after Senator Lodge had presented his resolution and spoke for 4 hours concluding at 5:15 o'clock. He was followed by Senator France who spoke for 2 hours and at 7:30 Senator Sherman began an extended address.

The filibuster continued until the end. Senator Sherman who began a speech at 7:30 A. M. held the floor more than four hours and successfully prevented further consideration of the railroad appropriation.

The last half hour was spent in roll calls on a house resolution to which amendments were proposed providing for early demobilization of the American army. The resolution never reached a final vote.

Senator Sherman announced his intention of preventing passage of the $750,000,000 railroad appropriation. He was still speaking at 9 o'clock and it was understood that he would continue for several hours. After failing to obtain the floor during the night, Senator Thomas, of Colorado, Democrat, issued a statement in which he criticized the "antiquated and preposterous rules" which made the majority in the senate "Entirely subject to the will of the minority."

"What goes by the name of debate," said the senator, "Can proceed without limit and when seasonably interspersed with roll calls two or three filibustering senators can paralyze its legislative functions. Hence, the senate for the past three days has done nothing but listen to multitudinous words. The spectacle is a humiliating one."

Senator Thomas declared that after a similar experience two years ago the senate changed its rule, but added:

"The amendment is as worthless for the purpose as the rule it purports to change."

Crowded galleries followed proceedings in both houses. Early today the galleries filled rapidly until standing room was at a premium. It was said that never before had there been such a large attendance at a closing session.

Scarcely a dozen senators remained in the chamber during the early morning hours and even the efforts of the few on watch to hasten the movements with railery and dialogue did not prevent a member here and there from dropping his head on his desk.

There was little evidence of senatorial dignity in the scenes in the cloak and committee rooms where members slept. Some of them flat on their backs on table tops and others huddled together on assembled chairs. A small supply of army blankets was soon exhausted and the fortunate senators found them comfortable as chilliness preceded dawn crept through the capitol.

Spokesmen of the administration said failure of the deficiency bill would mean almost immediate return of the railroads to their owners, because the government could not retain and finance them without the appropriation.

By the middle of April, it was former Bolshevik commander, has said, the railroad administration's present funds would be exhausted with treason.

WASHINGTON—Gen. Krylenko, and only an extra session before then could make it possible to continue government operation of the roads pending remedial legislation which all interests have urged.

ASSEMBLY IN REFUSAL TO HELP OBJECTORS

Petition by Ministers Asking Investigation is Tabled

By FRED L. HOLMES
By a vote of 44 to 30 the assembly Tuesday tabled without printing the journal of the house, a communication from the Protestant Ministerial Conference of Milwaukee asking for an investigation of the alleged inhuman treatment of conscientious objectors in the various prison camps. The communication, which was signed by Albert Lutz, president, and C. W. Schlueter, was read by the chief clerk, when Assemblyman C. J. P. Vaughan moved that it be tabled. F. B. Metcalfe, Milwaukee socialist, objected and demanded a roll call.

The communication follows:
Milwaukee, Wis.,
March, 1919.
To the Honorable Members of the Assembly, Madison, Wis.

Dear Sirs:
Permit us, upon request of the "Protestant Ministerial Conference of Milwaukee, Wis.," representing 32 congregations of six different denominations, comprising some 30,000 members, to petition you in behalf of the 1,500 "conscientious objectors" and other political offenders who, to this very day, are reported to be subject to inhuman treatment in the various prison camps.

If we are informed correctly, and if the published reports as regarding the treatment these unfortunate men received are authentic and according to facts, then, dear sir, such conditions prevailing in said camps as Fort Riley, Fort Leavenworth and others, are abominable and a disgrace to our much lauded American civilization. Reading the reports one gets sick at heart, and one can hardly believe that such conditions can possibly prevail in democratic America. They remind us of the reported cruelties perpetrated in Prussian prison camps, and of the atrocities which prisoners suffered in distant, despotic Russia.

The greatest majority of these "conscientious objectors" are not criminals. They are held on account of their religious conviction which they consider dearer than their lives. Many of them have left Europe on account of religious persecutions, and they hoped and believed that in the land of the Pilgrim Fathers, in the land which guarantees religious liberty according to its constitution they could find a home where they might live in peace and practice their religion according to the dictates of their conscience. Some of these sufferers are Mennonites. Christians who have won our admiration because of their piety and simplicity of life. They have for more than 300 years taken a firm stand against war and anything connected with war. They have taken this stand in all countries. There are cases on record where Mennonites were placed in prison because of their refusal to wear a uniform, yet we wonder whether they received such an inhuman treatment under Prussian militarism, as for instance, the Hofer brothers in democratic America? These people are otherwise good, loyal Americans and as far as governmental support is concerned, they have been as honest as daylight. Such are many of the men who are unreasonably and cruelly treated in this our great democracy, and the mental and physical suffering which they are forced to undergo blackens the shield of honor of our beloved country.

For humanitarian reasons we beg of you to investigate and upon finding conditions as they are published to use all your influence at your command to make an end to such inhuman treatments, and to use also your good offices to have these "conscientious objectors" pardoned and their liberty restored unto them.

Respectfully submitted,
Your fellow citizens,
Albert Lutz, President,
2202 Prairie St.
C. W. Schlueter, Secy.,
302 Concordia Ave.

The assembly concurred in the Skogmo resolution providing for a joint committee to investigate the teachers' insurance and retirement fund. After considerable debate on the Klein bill permitting the common council to determine the hours of labor and days of rest for firemen and policemen in Milwaukee, Assemblyman Donnelly offered an amendment and the bill went over until Thursday. An amendment by Klein to include all cities was voted down.

Bills were passed as follows:
Kane—Permitting cities and villages to license persons or corporations doing electrical work.
Olmsed—Fixing the compensation of members of county boards at $5 a day.
Coe—Fixing the salary of town assessors at $5 per day.

Coe—Permitting an allowance of $1,000 to the widow and minor children pending the settlement of a personal estate.
Assembly adjourned until 9:30 Wednesday morning.

The history department of the Woman's club entertained at a luncheon at the May cafe this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Chinese anecdotes and jokes were related by the club members.

CALL M'ELROY 'HOBBO' IN SENATE DEBATE TODAY

Many Say Security League Speaker Should be Ignored

Though individual senators indulged in some caustic observations, the Wisconsin senate refused today to be stampeded by the assembly resolution condemning Robert McElroy. This resolution, which was sent over from the assembly Friday, scores McElroy for calling the students "traitors," in an address April 6 last, in the university gymnasium. The senate Tuesday sent the resolution to the judiciary committee.

"As an individual citizen I should like to hang a fellow like that, but I am not sure we ought to dignify what he says in this resolution," said Senator Conant.

Bennett Is Cool
"I do not think we ought to become too much wrought up over the mutterings of some hobo, who happens to blow in for a night only," said Senator Bennett, in making the motion to refer. Senator Skogmo declared he was in sympathy with the resolution, but he questioned the advisability of noticing the McElroy utterance.

Provision for a New York leaders to take care of Wisconsin soldiers is made in a bill passed in the senate under suspension of the rules. This bill, offered by Chairman A. H. Wilkinson of the finance committee, authorizes the governor to appoint a committee of five to conduct headquarters and appropriate $5,000. The assembly later concurred in the bill.

Soldier Given Chance
To enable the name of a soldier in service abroad to be placed on the ballot as a candidate for county judge, the senate suspended the rules and passed the Wilcox bill extending the time for filing of nomination papers. The soldier is Capt. Fred Smith, Chippewa Falls, formerly municipal judge, whose friends desire to place him in the field for county judge. He is stationed at Coblenz with the army of occupation.

With a clause making mandatory the minimum salary for Milwaukee graded teachers of $800, the senate ordered engrossment without objection, Tuesday morning, the Jennings bill, increasing the school tax levy for Milwaukee to four mills.

The senate passed under suspension of the rules the Zumbach bill increasing the special Milwaukee tax levy for social centers from two-tenths to four-tenths mills. This bill is subject to a referendum of the Milwaukee voters and rush action was requested on the measure so that the referendum can be held in the coming April election.

The senate engrossed two bills by Jennings, one authorizing the county board to fix the salaries of county civil service commissioners and the other empowering the common council to change the salary of appointive officers during their terms of office. The senate adjourned until Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

Skating Is Unsafe

City Official Declares no Action on Lakes is Planned.

"Nothing to it," declared Street Supt. Sullivan when asked regarding rumors that planing of the ice at the city rinks on lakes surrounding the city was contemplated. Mr. Sullivan declared that the ice on the lakes was by far too thin and dangerous to make possible the use of horses on the ice. The lakes are at present open to a great extent, the street superintendent stated, and no such action would be either advisable or practical as the cold spell is expected to break within the next few days and skating will be impossible. Skating has been very popular on the rink near the university gym during the past several weeks, and up to last night was almost daily dotted with pleasure seekers. The dangers accompanying the opening of the channels has, however, kept the skaters from venturing out far.

LENROOT SIGNS; LA FOLLETTE IN REFUSAL

Senior Senator Will Not Sign Declaration Opposing League

WASHINGTON—The statement read into the senate record by Senator Lodge of the names of 37 senators of the next session who would oppose the league of nations idea, included the name of Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin.

Senator La Follette refused to sign the statement. It is believed, however, that he will oppose many features of the plan.

The senators who signed the statement follow:

MADISON LABOR MEETING URGES NIGHT SCHOOLS

Y. M. C. A. Men Address Federation Members at Open Session

The Madison Federation of Labor held an open meeting for discussion with short talks by the Rev. Mr. Henry Harris and Mr. Rig, an international Y. M. C. A. secretary, at Woodman hall last night.

"How can we help," was the spirit of the "Y" men. Educational work through night classes and other means of cooperating with Madison's laboring men, were considered. The school board question was also considered but no action taken.

The State Federation of Labor is to meet here in a legislative session the 11th and 12th of this month. The meetings will be opened in Woodman hall by J. J. Hanley of Milwaukee, state secretary. The committee is planning night meetings for the public.

REMEDY IS SOUGHT FOR LABOR UNREST

BUTTE, Mont.—The Patriotic Citizens of America have undertaken to bring loyal employers and employees together while eliminating the I. W. W. and other radical elements.

The movement has taken impetus since the recent strike of the I. W. W. and other organizations, which closed the mines for ten days and necessitated the presence of troops here.

The P. C. O. A. in formal resolutions declares there is imminence "of a Bolshevik revolt in America" and calls on all employers to hire only Americans whose loyalty is unquestioned.

Believing that the cost of living may enter into unrest, the P. C. O. A. also have named committees to investigate prices for the necessities of life in Butte and ascertain whether charges that the people of Butte pay unwarrantably high prices, are true.

J. H. McIntosh, manager of the Associated Industries of America, formerly the Montana State Employers' association, is one of the leaders of the P. C. O. A. movement.

COXEY'S ARMY

Famous Demonstration of 1894 May be Duplicated by "Wets."

NEW YORK — The famous "army" of "General" Coxey, which is 1894 marched to Washington to demand improvements in public roads as a means of providing employment to thousands of men out of work at that time, may march again, according to Jacob S. Coxey, leader of the famous band.

This time "General" Coxey will assemble his "army" at Washington where he plans to set up camp until the initiative and referendum amendment to the constitution is passed so that through it the prohibition amendment may be repealed. He will first go to Washington in person, he says, and at the special session of congress make his appeal. If there is no action within two weeks he will issue a call to all in the country opposed to a dry nation to assemble at Washington for the demonstration.

RED ARMIES IN STRONG ATTACK AT ARCHANGEL

(By the Associated Press)

ARCHANGEL — The Bolsheviks continue to push their offensive against the American and allied troops on the front 160 miles south of Archangel. According to reports received the allies have evacuated the village of Vevsievskaya.

The allies however still hold their position at Vistavka and the villages of Maximovskaya and Kitsa. The Bolsheviks were reported yesterday to be moving a considerable force along the road from Tarahevo in the Kadish sector toward Maximovskaya and last night the Bolshevik artillery bombarded Vistavka.

The Americans evacuated Vevsievskaya yesterday after the blockhouses had been set on fire. Airplane observers reported that the town was still burning last night.

In the meantime the Bolsheviks continue to shell the allied positions at Tulgas. The allied guns are replying vigorously. The enemy apparently is attempting to drive the Americans from Ust Vaga and cut off the column along the Dvina which is 30 miles south of the confluence of the Vaga with the Dvina. Since early in February the enemy has been reorganizing behind the lines and bringing up new guns. The columns on both the Vaga and the Dvina are outnumbered at least 3 to 1 and the Bolsheviks have a great superiority in guns.

LULL IN HARVEST AFFECTS 100 MEN

Ice harvest work here has again been staggered by inclement weather. Today with the exception of a few men working on the Conklin fields on Lake Wingra, no ice cutting whatever is being done. The Fisher and Nieme crews quit work last evening on the fields on Third Lake and the La Grange company of La Grange, Ill., ceased work Saturday. The latter concern was unable to secure teamsters to haul the ice from the fields to the railway tracks where it was being loaded for shipment to the Illinois city.

About 100 workmen are affected by the inability of ice companies to carry on harvest work.

GRAFT TALE IS ADJOURNMENT 'EXAGGERATED,' KILLS BILL TO DANIELS HEARS AID DRAFT ARMY

Great Lakes Naval Station Executive Denies Reports
Senator Gore Made Effort to Have Men Returned Soon

WASHINGTON — Captain Bassett, executive officer at the Great Lakes Naval station reported to Secretary Daniels today that the printed reports regarding the arrests at that station were "sensational and grossly exaggerated."

Investigation, Captain Bassett said, indicated that only a few enlisted men were involved and that they evidently accepted money under false pretenses, as so far no evidence had been found that any man had been discharged as a result of the passing of bribes.

By a vote of 44 to 40 the Senate tabled an amendment presented by Senator Trammell making the period of time 60 instead of 30 days. The bill and the Gore amendment died with the adjournment of congress at noon.

OPTOMETRY LAW SUSTAINED BY HIGH COURT

Justice W. C. Owen Writes Opinion Upholding Law's Validity

The Wisconsin supreme court today sustained the validity of the optometry law. The case arose in the city of Milwaukee where Michael N. Price was found guilty of practicing optometry without a license. He brought suit for a review of the judgment of conviction.

"It was the purpose," declared Judge Owen, "of the legislature to prevent any one from holding himself out to the public as qualified to engage in the practice of optometry. It was also quite plainly the intent of the legislature to permit persons to sell spectacles so long as they did so without attempting to test the eyes. To permit one who sells spectacles, without attempting to test the eyes, to hold himself out to the public as qualified to engage in the practice of optometry, would of course be absurd, and statutes are not to be so construed as to result in an absurdity."

"In the construction of statutes we should look to the whole and every part of the law, to the intent apparent from the whole, to the subject matter, to the effect and consequences, to the reason and spirit, and thereby ascertain the ruling idea present in the legislative mind at the time of its enactment, and then, if the manifest purpose of the lawmakers can thereby be reasonably spelled out of the words they used to express it, to give effect to such purpose, though the meaning thus adopted be quite contrary to the literal sense of the words." The intent of the legislature in passing this law is not difficult of ascertainment. It was intended to prevent any one from practicing optometry, or from holding himself out as competent to practice optometry, until a license to do so had been secured as provided in the act. It was also intended to exempt from the provisions of the law persons who simply sold spectacles over the counter, where the customer makes his own selection and there is no attempt on the part of the salesman to test the eyes. The law is valid."

NO. 133. THEODORE YELICK, APP., VS. MILWAUKEE NORTHERN RY. CO.

Theodore Yelick was a laborer in some work being done by a contractor in cement construction and was required in the course of his labor to come to the cement mixing machine which was standing in the street in Milwaukee. From this machine he wheeled cement, which was used in the erection of a building nearby. While Yelick was engaged in his work getting his load in his wheelbarrow the street car came along, striking the handles of the wheelbarrow and throwing him down with great force. The trial court entered a non-suit order, taking the view that the "look and listen doctrine" convicted Yelick of contributory negligence. From this adverse decision, Yelick appealed.

NO. 135. ELIZABETH DUESING, APP., VS. THE MILWAUKEE ELECTRIC RAILWAY & LIGHT CO.

John Duesing while driving down town in the city of Milwaukee on June 23, 1916, on his motorcycle, was struck by an electric car of the Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Co. His widow, Elizabeth Duesing, sued the street railway company for $10,000 damages. The lower court granted a non-suit on the ground of contributory negligence and Mrs. Duesing appealed.

NO. 139—BERNARD J. BASSETT VS. MILWAUKEE NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY, DEFENDANT.

Bernard J. Bassett was injured on April 6, 1916, when two interurban cars of the Milwaukee Northern Railway company collided at Thiensville. This action was brought to recover damages. The lower court found for Bassett in the amount of $16,000.00 damages and $249.35 costs. Bassett was attending the College of Engineering in the City of Milwaukee and with others went as part of his instruction course to Port Washington to view the industrial plant there. He claims that prior to his injury he was a strong, able bodied young man and now he is incapable of hard work. The original claim was for $50,000. The Milwaukee Northern Railway company appealed.

NO. 151—H. W. SHATTUCK, EXEC. OF THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF SARAH A. HOLBROOK, DECEASED, APP., VS. TRUSTEES OF ENDOWMENT FUNDS OF ST. JAMES CHURCH AND PARISH HOUSE.

A default of judgment was entered in the will case after a hearing in the absence of H. W. Shattuck. The lower court on Dec. 27, 1917, entered an order against the estate of Sarah A. Holbrook, deceased, for $39,297.45. The judgment in question affirmed a judgment of the county court of Milwaukee county allowing a claim of $35,000 with interest, filed by respondent against said estate, said claim being founded on a written instrument executed by Sarah A.

Hogs Now Squeal In Barracks Used by S.A.T.C.

No little indignation is being aroused among the residents near Camp Randall by the action of the University authorities in quartering hogs in the barracks formerly used by the S. A. T. C.

Mr. Morrison of the university, who is directly in charge of the matter, claims there is no intention of keeping the hogs there and that the arrangement is only a temporary one. He says the hogs will be moved within a few weeks at most. It is the plan to move three of the barracks to the Agricultural farm for use there, and as soon as this is accomplished, they will have a way to take care of the over-supply of stock which is now crowding their facilities. The barracks when moved to the farm are to be used for hogs, machinery and forage. In order to move the buildings it is necessary to cut them in halves. The first half of one of them is already on its way.

Holbrook during her lifetime. The executor has appealed for a decision of the Supreme court.

NO. 155—GEORGE C. CAMPBELL, APP., VS. THE MILWAUKEE ELECTRIC RAILWAY AND LIGHT COMPANY.

George C. Campbell, an alderman of the city of Milwaukee, claims that he was unlawfully prevented from entering a car of the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company and asked for damages. The underlying and practically the only issue in the case is the question as to whether or not the car from which Campbell was ejected was a street car or an interurban car, the plaintiff claiming that it was a street car, because that is the only kind of a franchise that the company has on the street. The company made the contention in the lower court that it was an interurban car and that it had the right to make reasonable rules and regulations prohibiting passengers from entering such cars in a major portion of the city. The verdict of the lower court as in the defendant's favor. Campbell appealed.

STATE CASE NO. 1—STATE OF WISCONSIN, DEFENDANT, VS. MICHAEL N. PRICE.

Michael N. Price of Milwaukee was found guilty in the lower court of practicing optometry without a license. A motion for a new trial was denied. Price appealed to the supreme court claiming that the optometry law under which he was fined is unconstitutional.

Reversed

NO. 143—LIZZIE GLATZ, APP., VS. KROEGER BROS. CO.

Cyprian Glatz was struck by a delivery truck owned by the Kroeger Bros. Co. of Milwaukee on Feb. 9, 1917, at Glean street, Milwaukee. Glatz died as a result of his injuries. His widow is now suing for damages and claims that the deceased had right of way and proceeding with due care; and that the driver of the truck was proceeding at a negligent rate of speed. A special verdict in the lower court was in favor of Mrs. Glatz, but the trial court changed that verdict and held that the deceased was guilty of negligence as a matter of law and reversed the findings of the jury in that respect. From that decision Mrs. Glatz appealed.

NO. 144—OTTO QUASS VS. MILWAUKEE GAS LIGHT COMPANY, APP.

This is a story of a lighted candle and a gas leak which caused an explosion. In Feb., 1917, Otto Quass was a boarder at the home of Mrs. Thekla Henn, Milwaukee. An employee of the Gas company had been called to disconnect gas pipes in the basement of the building. Later in going down stairs Quass carried a lighted candle as there were no other lights in the basement. As he opened the basement door an explosion followed which caused the destruction of the building. The verdict of the lower court gave Quass $1,323.56 and the gas company appealed.

NEW YORK HARBOR STRIKE RESUMED

NEW YORK — The strike of 16,000 boatmen in New York harbor, halted last January at the cabed request of President Wilson, was resumed at six o'clock this morning and at that hour shipping virtually was at a standstill.

The strike was ordered yesterday by the executive council of the Marine Workers Affiliation. The strikers demand wage increases averaging 30 per cent and the 8 hour day.

U. S. CONSUL MAY BE RELEASED BY BRITISH COUP

general strike, 12,000 men being affected. This is the first response to the Spartacist appeal.

According to the Vorwaerts the majority of the working men in the metal trades and the railway workers favor a general stoppage of work.

Plan Counter Strike. Some 300 business and professional men and officers in the city, mostly adherents of the old order, at a meeting decided to take immediate steps for organizing a general strike of all the non-socialist classes as a counter measure. It was asserted at the gathering that the government officials believed such a strike would assist them effectively in the struggle against the "red terror" and that they considered it necessary to show the extent that the people supported the national assembly.

It seems doubtful however, whether the speakers had any authority to speak for the government or whether the organizers of the meeting will be able to sway any considerable numbers.

Outside Berlin reports from the Essen district show that the miners' strike has been renewed there. The miners in the Altenberg coal district voted to return to work today.

Plan Factory Councils. The aims of the proposed strike as called by the Berlin Spartacists include the introduction of factory councils in all plants to regulate factory affairs and ultimately the taking over of the factories, the dismissal of the governments, and the withdrawal of all troops from Westphalia, Bremen and other regions.

designated, in the formation of a red guard under the control of the soviets, which would take over all military and police powers.

The liberation of all political prisoners and the establishment of a revolutionary tribunal to try the "chief culprits" of the war, the Hohenzollerns; Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, General Ludendorff, Admiral Tirpitz and the "traitors to the revolution," President Ebert, Chancellor Scheidemann and Gustav Noske, the minister of defense, are also called for. The immediate conclusion of peace with Russia and the establishment of diplomatic relations with the Russian soviet republic are likewise demanded.

Appeal to Workmen. The national governing board of the majority socialist party, the delegates to the national assembly and the local board of Greater Berlin have issued an appeal to the workmen to refrain from taking part in the general strike. They promise that the government will use all efforts possible to hurry along social legislation in which the retention of the principle of the workmen's councils will be incorporated. Such councils later would officiate after the manner of factory councils.

Socialists Disappear. (By the Associated Press)

WEIMAR (Monday)—Government circles are said to be considerably exercised over the fact that nearly the entire independent socialist delegation in the national assembly has vanished during these days of strikes, uprisings and attempts to cut off Weimar from the rest of Germany. Today there were only two independent socialists present at the assembly session, the Independent delegation has been steadily dwindling since the beginning of the Halle and Leipzig trouble.

The semi-official government organ today says they probably are traveling about stirring up disorder and trouble on the money which the government is paying them.

The national assembly is discussing voting itself in permanent session so as to be able to assemble immediately when desired. This action is proposed in view of the limited armistice, capable of being terminated on short notice.

Weimar continues to be heavily guarded by troops. The contingent has been increased and light artillery added to its equipment. Machine guns now adorn buildings in strategic localities, notably the provisional telegraph headquarters where all the assembly dispatches are filed and which commands a large square and a half dozen streets.

POLITICAL PRISONERS

THERE are in this country today thousands of men and women behind prison walls or fighting in the courts against penitentiary sentences indicted or convicted for having expressed their opinions.

We refer to the political and religious prisoners.

Isn't it time for the American people to take cognizance of this situation? Is the thought of a political or religious prisoner in keeping with American ideals and traditions? Has free speech been abandoned? Are we to resort to force to prevent men from saying what they think?

Years ago the writer was a reporter on a Milwaukee paper. One of our annual assignments was to cover Emma Goldman's visit to the city.

This high priestess of anarchy was a yearly speaker at the West Side Turn hall. A small gathering would listen to her revolutionary ravings and Emma would go on her way. She wasn't molested, she was allowed to say what she pleased and no harm was done.

Why? Simply because her philosophy wasn't sustained by public opinion. People listened to her, refused to accept her logic and rejected her ideas.

Emma Goldman and her followers were never arrested for what they said. But they were detained by the law when they attempted to transmit their ideas into overt acts of violence.

Wasn't that the ideal way to treat Emma Goldman and her kind? Wasn't that the American way to do it? Wasn't it good policy to say to Emma Goldman: "Go ahead and preach your doctrines as far as you like. You can't get any following in America on that sort of philosophy. The American people will kill your ideas by ignoring them—we won't have to do it by law. But just the minute you resort to violence we will step in and lock you up."

Men become a force for good or bad only insofar as they obtain a following. If the opinions of a man gain a foothold with the people his doctrine and philosophy must have the foundation of truth in it. If he does not gain a foothold in popular opinion his opinions die of their own weight.

The American way to handle agitators and ultra-radicals has not been to put them in jail but to endeavor to meet the conditions complained of. Is any one so foolish as to believe that we could suppress agitation against the high cost of living in this country by putting people in jail? Of course not. The way to eliminate that sort of agitation is to eliminate the cause.

The trouble with the present policy of dealing with political prisoners is that we are dealing with EFFECT rather than CAUSE. If it has been necessary to put hundreds of radicals in jail is anything gained by continuing that policy? Isn't the constructive policy rather to get at underlying causes that produce radicals in this country?

In the course of the recent speech in the U. S. Senate Senator La Follette said:

Mr. President. I do not know what the end is to be, but I do believe that we must move with a degree of fairness and consideration in dealing with the masses of the people of this country. When they complain of these conditions, do not come in here and propose a law that shall suppress their complaints. I tell you you are playing with mighty forces that may bring disaster upon us if you do that. If evils exist in this country, permit them to be talked about. That is the best way to correct it. If somebody indulges in wild and unreasoning and violent exhortation let him be answered. Permit, I would say, the widest discussion.

As I said to one of the Senators who came across the aisle to speak to me the other day about the terrible thing that had happened at Poli's Theater, and appealed to me to say something to avert a class war in this country, I would put an open stand on every open place in the city of Washington, and I would say to everybody, "Say what you please." Then I would say to everybody else, "Answer them." Error-exposed can not long stand, unless it has a good foundation, and if we are guilty, if we have no defense for what we have done, it may be that we might incur some risk, Mr. President, upon the instant in permitting a full exposition of our shortcomings. However, I do not believe that. I believe that the wholesome cure for complaint is free discussion. The point where I would apply the power of the Government is where your discussion is translated into overt acts of violence, if we shall come to that. That will not come, Mr. President and Senators, I believe, if there be permitted the freest and fullest discussion in this country. If you are not going to permit it, I should like to have someone tell me who shall be arbiter as to what is proper to be said.

The war is over. America can afford to be as generous as other countries where amnesty is being given political prisoners.

The political prisoner is repulsive to American ideals. This country should get rid of her political prisoners as fast as possible.

WHERE BLAME BELONGS

IF THE bill removing the secrecy clause of the income tax which is being fought so bitterly by the profiteers of the state is killed tomorrow the blame will rest squarely on the shoulders of Senators Fons and Clarke.

Fons switched from his original vote and Clarke was prevailed upon by somebody to give notice of a reconsideration of the vote.

Senator Fons is one of the politicians of the state who has done much posing around the loyalty issue. He loses no opportunity to talk glibly about loyalty and democracy. But Fons' actual VOTING record is like so many of these loyalty shouters. He is on record against suffrage which is fundamental democracy. Now he attempts to keep from the people of this state information which will tell who is gouging and exploiting them.

A little more loyalty to the people and less to the profiteers would be welcome action at the hands of the present reactionary legislature.

From the Daily Cardinal
WHY is it that one of Madison's leading journals, purporting to be published for the best interests of the people, refuses to publish any news concerning affairs of the most importance to this community? The Wisconsin State Journal has continually ignored the McElroy proceeding, when all other papers have been featuring it. It will be remembered that last spring, when McElroy was receiving most attention, this same paper ignored the question at the most vital time during the discussion. Do not these facts, when they continue to occur, lend color to the charge that perhaps influences behind this paper have been the sources which have inspired such misguided and uncalled for charges against our university and our students?

Voice of the People

MOR MR. ELA

To the Editor of The Capital Times: I see Emerson Ela wants no Bolsheviks around the new Y. M. C. A. As the Y needs all the support it can get in these censorious days he probably would not want to construe the term "Bolshevik" as the Security League kind of people do, to mean, for instance, those who want to bring down war-time plundering, the workman who wants to better his condition, or the ordinary citizen who believes democratic government is a thing of growth and can occasionally be improved upon as time advances. Constant Reader.

A JUNIOR POEM.

To the Editor of The Capital Times: A junior reader asks for the favor of having this crude poem printed: Once there was a street car magazine. Living in a good sized town. It was on the country order. Though many a lady had her Paris gown.

Now this man, he was an expert. And he said, "I soon will tell These denizens what ails them. Not a soul of them is well."

I will build for them a clubhouse, Nice and big and cheery too. The invalid who dines within it, Surely never will feel blue.

Just one hundred will I charge them, Not a penny less or more, 'Cause the Board of Commerce needs some; If I did they'd make a roar.

And this six cent car fare, I will spare them, oh! my! yes, Just how they their health recovered They will never give a guess.

Why this splendid skip stop system, Gives them plenty of time to think. The man who is in a hurry, Better start a skating rink.

"Serenity," says Emerson, "Wins the day for him who works." That had always been my motto. It's the "I should say so" of the very best experts.

CONSTABULARY EDITORIAL.

To the Editor of The Capital Times: Your editorial the other evening on the state constabulary proposition was a ringer. And yet it was only one of dozens that have hit the nail squarely. Let me congratulate you on your splendid championship of the rights of those who cannot well speak and act for themselves and also on the phenomenal growth of your paper. In one year you have grown faster than other Madison papers in 60 years. My blood thrills at the heroic and chivalrous work being done by your brilliant young band. It will be a great distinction for them to say in later years: "I was one of the staff of The Capital Times in its first wonderful days." I regret that my three-score and more years prevent me from ever being able to claim such enviable comradeship; but yours be the glory.

It's kind of funny though that you who don't pretend to be the organ of the high toned should yet be able to regulate the junior prom. F. C. K.

LA FOLLETTE AND THE COW

To the Editor of The Capital Times: When I read in your paper how the big milkman of Racine, who was fined $50,000 for hoarding flour was to be honored at the junior prom, and Bob La Follette, the university's most distinguished alumnus, who was acquitted by his colleagues, was insulted by the same prom moguls, I couldn't help thinking about cows and milk. One picture came to mind. It wasn't that of the governor's cow that came to Madison in a crate at state expense, but that of another cow trailing along a dusty road behind a democrat wagon drawn by an old gray mare. On the wagon seat was a young chap and in the wagon box behind him was a calf, put there to make the cow come easier. The driver was Bob La Follette coming up to Madison to get an education and seek a larger field of service for his fellows. The cow was to furnish milk for the boarding house Bob's mother conducted that her children might stay in school. Bob probably spent a lot of time thinking about proms and such things then because he had nothing to do but saw the wood for the house, feed and milk the cow, take care of the family horse and the fires, stay up till midnight helping his mother make bread and pancake batter and then get his lessons for next day. However, he also taught a country school one winter, riding five miles horseback every morning and night. I know all this because I spent many evenings with him at the time as he was good company. Sometimes we stayed up all night making up the university paper of which he was also editor, ad hustler and collector. Job came into Madison with his cow on a country road unnoticed. Let three or four years later he came in again once and the whole city turned out and gave him a greater reception than it did the resident of the United States a few days later. Pardon me for reverting to those things but, as I said, I couldn't help thinking of that country boy and his cow coming up to Madison when you mentioned milk. J. Z. G.

MAY DISBAND BOARD

APPLETON—Only four cheese factories are represented on the Appleton dairy board, which meets Wednesday. There is a danger of the Appleton board following many other cheese boards into oblivion.

Four factories are not enough to warrant keeping up the board. Some years ago the local dairy board represented twenty-six factories, but now many farmers are taking their milk to condenseries and some factories are selling direct to cheese buyers. There was a time when Outagamie county had four cheese markets, Appleton, Seymour, Hortonville and New London.

ANARCHISTS ARRESTED IN PROBE OF PLOT AGAINST WILSON

Group of Spanish anarchists collected by federal authorities in investigating plot to kill the president, on way to federal court in New York.

Federal officials are running down every clue in every report of plots against the safety of President Wilson. In uncovering a well-laid plan to assassinate Wilson the officials recently corralled fourteen Spanish anarchists in New York and Philadelphia. They were made to appear in court under habeas corpus proceedings. They were freed later, but it is believed they will be deported.

GREAT BRITAIN PRAISED FOR AID GIVEN AMERICA

Professor McLaughlin Says U. S. Principles Are Distinctly English

"Great Britain is the mother of our constitutional government and the source of many of our principles and institutions," said Prof. Andrew C. McLaughlin, head of the history department of the University of Chicago, in his lecture on "British-American Relations" in University Hall Monday afternoon.

"The American revolution was the brightest jewel in the English diadem. None but English colonies were well enough developed to stage the revolution that our colonies did. Men like Washington, and Jefferson had breathed the air of freedom. They turned to the principles of past history that Englishmen had died for as the basis of their constitution. These principles had been fought for in the seventh century and we took them over. We ought to feel a sense of gratitude to Englishmen. Pinn spoke for us, Milton wrote for us, and John Elliott died in the tower for us.

"The Civil war was also a great English revolution. It changed England from an aristocracy to a democracy. The aristocracy of Great Britain sympathized with the South and hoped that democracy—our republic would crumble, but the masses of common people sympathized with the North. The people in northern England starved rather than have the government break the blockade to get cotton."

The Ada Bird-club of the Wisconsin School of Music meets tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. There will be a business meeting and the following program is to be given: Mabel Helland, piano solo; Helen Matson, violin; Willis Thessler and Delos Dudley, mandolin duet; Marjory Mosell, piano solo; Richard Roberts, vocal solo.

The marriage of Miss Caroline Nitardy and Walter Henry Goth will take place this evening in the German Lutheran church in Verona. The bride's father, Rev. G. Nitardy, will perform the ceremony. The bride is to be attended by Misses Luella and Olive Goth, sisters of the groom, the groom by the bride's brothers, Dr. Gotthalt Nitardy and Arthur Nitardy.

A reception will follow the ceremony. The couple are to be at home on the groom's farm in the town of Madison after March 15. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goth, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Goth, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stormer and Miss Clara Stolte of Madison will be guests.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE FULLER.
A thoroughly delightful story, one of the most fascinating stories ever filmed, is "The Love Net," starring Madge Evans with Jack Drumier, which will be shown today at the Fuller theater. There are no pretensions to the presentation of a great problem in this picture—it is a simple, human story, simply and humanly told. It is because the story strikes home to every heart, and because it is so filled with happiness, that the picture makes such a tremendous impression on all those who see it.

TOMORROW.
A Great Poem in Pictures.
Henri Krauss, the distinguished French actor and the creator of Jean Valjean in the notable screen presentation of "Les Miserables," does some of the most finished and appealing work of his entire career in "A Vagabond of France," which will be shown at the Fuller theater tomorrow and Thursday. It is a charming visualization of Jean Richepin's famous poem, titled "The Vagabond," and it has been very fittingly characterized as a "poem in pictures."

MAJESTIC.
Bewitching Carmel Myers, in her latest picture called "The Little White Savage," will be shown at the Majestic for today only, and picture goers ought to derive perfect enjoyment out of this offering, not only because the story has been so skillfully handled, but because the plot is funny. Contrasting the character of a young minister with that of a girl brought up on a distant island with no knowledge of civilized living, makes a picture that mingles humor and startling situations delightfully. Each moment of suspense is followed by a laugh. Miss Myers, the adorable star, as "The Little White Savage," is very white and very sassy, you'll be amused—yes—perhaps a little shocked.

GRAND.
A clever girl, wielding only a trenchant pen, breaks the will of the most powerful financial genius in the world, saves her own father from unmerited disgrace and wins the only son for herself in "The Lion and the Mouse," now playing at the Grand.

AT THE NEW STRAND.
A combination of realism and romance is offered in Vivian Martin's new Paramount picture, "Jane Goes a-Wooling," which will be presented at the New Strand today and tomorrow. Vivian is seen as a comely little Irish girl who is left with the care of her twin sisters when her father, who is an irresponsible vagabond, deserts, and leaves his three children destitute.

"HEART OF HUMANITY."
"The Heart of Humanity," which is to be presented at the Fuller theater on Sunday, with Dorothy Phillips in the featured role, is an eight-reel Allen Holubar production which brings to the screen the inspiring story of woman's efforts to alleviate the sufferings of the wounded and orphaned and homeless during the days when France and Belgium were scarred and seared by sword and torch, and pounded and rocked by great German guns. It depicts the tenderness of the motherheart in its conflict with the horrors of war. It pays a deserved tribute to

IRISH RELIEF RESOLUTION IS PASSED 216-41

Claims of Ireland Causes Stormy Night Session of Senate

WASHINGTON—By a vote of 216 to 41 the house today adopted the resolution expressing the hope that the Peace Conference would "favorably consider the claims of Ireland to the right of self determination."

The resolution now goes to the senate where it is considered altogether improbable that any action can be obtained before final adjournment.

When the resolution was received by the senate, Senator France asked for its immediate consideration. Senator Smith demanded that it go to the foreign affairs committee. Adoption of the resolution in the house came after a turbulent night session in which an organized effort was made to keep it from coming to a vote. Only one member, Representative Connolly, expressed opposition to the purpose of the resolution but Republican Leader Mann, Representative Moore and others attempted parliamentary delay throughout the night.

Representative Mann charged that democratic supporters of the resolution had delayed the bringing of it to a vote until just before adjournment so that it would not be passed by the senate, and that President Wilson would not be called upon to approve or disapprove the measure.

"I desire to advise the political party that attempts to throttle this resolution that it is dealing with dynamite," said Representative Gallagher of Massachusetts, democrat.

Representative Gallagher of Illinois, author of the resolution, said that even if the measure were not approved by the senate, favorable action by the house might obtain sympathetic consideration for Ireland at the peace conference.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds, and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoon in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

BADGERS WORK FOR BIG GAME WITH MAROONS

Team Will Fight Hard To Upset Leaders at Chicago.

In next Saturday's game at Chicago, the Badgers tossers get one more chance to upset the conference leaders. Last night's practice showed that Coach Jones' men will fight hard for a win to offset the Minnesota defeat.

The Badger, weathered the Gopher contest in good shape and with a week of stiff preparation should be in top condition for the Chicago scrap. Captain Zulfer will be back in his regular stride, fully recovered from his injury by Saturday.

Maroons Fear Wisconsin.
Chicago has much to fear from Wisconsin and is far from confident of downing the Badger five. Saturday night the Maroons barely scraped through with a 17-15 victory at Illinois, slipping in the winning basket.

ALL CONFERENCE FIVE.
The Ohio State Lancers, student daily of Ohio State University has asked Coach Guy F. Lowman for his selection of an all-conference basketball five. Coach Lowman will make known his choice of positions for a "Big Ten" quintet in the Daily Cardinal next week.

ket in the last minutes of play. The Maroons will have to play lively again Wednesday night at Northwestern. The contest Saturday with the Badgers at Chicago is the twelfth and final one for Pat Page's quintet.

Wisconsin has three games left on the schedule. After tackling Chicago, the Badgers jump to Iowa for a return game Monday night. Indiana comes here for the final contest of the year on Mar. 15, which should result in a Badger victory.

Chicago and Minnesota still top the conference as the only undefeated fives. The Maroons will have the stronger claim to the title on point of playing twelve games against the Gophers' ten. Minnesota's final contest is with Illinois.

SKI CLUB PLANS

DEVIL'S LAKE TRIP

The Badger Ski club plans to hold an all-day ski run and at Devil's Lake next Sunday if the weather permits. The men will leave on a morning train for the lake, where they will tour the country on skis. They plan to cook their own dinner, and will return to Madison that same evening.

Members of the club planning to join the party should communicate with George W. Martin, president of the club, at B. 3559.

DUAL MEET TESTS VARSITY ON TRACK

Notre Dame Runners Here For Contest Next Saturday.

Varsity track men will get their first test of the season in the dual meet with Notre Dame in the gym annex Saturday afternoon. The events will start at 2 o'clock.

The showing of the Badger runners against Notre Dame will indicate Wisconsin's track prospects for the coming season. Coach Jones' squad is still untried but the material looks promising for a high record in track.

Notre Dame fell in defeat by a 63-23 score in a dual meet with Michigan Saturday. The Catholics have a shining star in Giffellan, who stands high as a hurdler, jumper and shot-putter.

The Badgers will be crippled by the loss of Elsom this week through sickness. Elsom was counted on for a certain first in the mile run. Wisconsin's entries as picked last week will be as follows:

40-yard dash—Hall, Hsieh, Fourness. High hurdles—Edwards, Reed, Spafford. Quarter mile—Kaysen, Hall, Fourness, Sternlieb. Half mile—R. Ramsey, Smith, Shapiro, McCabe. Mile—Brothers, Pinkerton. Two mile—Burr, Meyers, Brothers, Taylor. Pole vault—Spafford, McCarty, Hanson. High jump—Edwards, Williams, Reed. Relay team—R. Ramsey, Fourness, Hall, Kaysen, Sternlieb.

WAR CONGRESS RELEGATED TO HISTORY TODAY

Was Most Memorable Session Since Nation Began

FINAL TAPS AT NOON

Members Appropriated Sixty

Billions of Dollars to Prosecute War

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—The sixty-fifth or great war congress passed into history today with final taps of the gavel by Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark at noon. Failure of scores of important bills gave promise of early convening for reconstruction legislation of the new congress in extraordinary session, in which control passes from the democratic party to the republicans. Unusual scenes of confusion in the final rush to complete its work accompanied the closing hours of congress, in which President Wilson, just back from France in his room off the senate chamber, hastily signed many last-moment measures. Stupendous was the record of the congress, which carried the nation into and through the war and which had been in almost continuous session since it was called by President Wilson into extraordinary session April 2, 1917, to declare war against Germany. It appropriated about $60,000,000, authorized $25,000,000,000 in bonds, and enacted countless measures for prosecuting the war and of domestic import. The new congress will take up the limitless task of reconstruction problems ratification of the peace treaty and other vital questions, probably immediately after the return of President Wilson from his second visit to France.

Three Different Sessions. Special features of the sixty-fifth congress were many addresses by President Wilson, including those recommending war with Germany and Austria, that of Jan. 8, 1917, enunciating his famous 14 principles of peace, and those endorsing woman suffrage, announcing the armistice terms imposed upon Germany last November and, his recent address detailing accomplishments of his work in Paris. There were three sessions of the congress. The first, extra session met April 2, 1917, following shortly after the turbulent and successful senate filibuster on the administration armed ship bill which marked the close of the sixty-fourth congress. The dramatic night address of President Wilson to urge war with Germany, which was promptly declared, marked the opening of the extra session, called but a few weeks after the president's inauguration for a second term. The session closed October 6, 1917, lasting 188 days. The second session—lasting 354 days and the longest in the history of American government—began Dec. 3, 1917, and adjourned Nov. 21, last. The third and final session which ended today, began Dec. 2, last, and was the statutory short session of 93 days.

Republicans to Rule. Substantial democratic majorities in both senate and house since President Wilson's inauguration six years ago, now have passed. In the new congress, the senate will have 49 republicans and 47 democrats, and the house 238 republicans and 193 democrats, 1 socialist, 2 independents, and 1 prohibitionist. Many veterans in both houses re-

MAKES APPEAL FOR AMNESTY FOR PRISONERS

Rev. Paul McKinney in Movement Among the Baptists

Rev. Paul J. MacKinney, pastor of the Bay View Baptist church in Milwaukee, has addressed an appeal to the ministers of the Baptist denomination asking their support in a campaign for amnesty for religious and political prisoners.

The appeal which has been sent out follows: 367 Logan Ave., Milwaukee, Wis. February 14, 1919. Members of the Wisconsin Baptist Ministerial Union and Interested Laymen.

Dear Brethren: Our denomination has consistently stood for religious freedom and liberty of conscience ever since its origin. Our forefathers were persecuted and killed for these truths. Their presence in the federal constitution is largely due to Baptist example and influence. The enclosed literature telling of the treatment of conscientious objectors in our military prisons seems to indicate that these provisions are being shamefully repudiated by some individuals into whose hands the government has put these prisoners. One of these is a Baptist clergyman, sentenced to do fifteen years because he rigidly followed the dictates of his conscience. These men, of whom there are about 1,200, have not been convicted of pro-Germanism, or any other crime against society, but of simply remaining true to what they considered the plain teachings of their Lord.

The war is now over. It is time to take the taste of it out of our mouths. All other nations except Japan have released their conscientious objectors and political prisoners. Shall the cradle of our democracy, America, be last in this work of mercy?

It may be objected that the liberation of these men will spread Bolshevism. Why, brethren, conditions like those mentioned in the accompanying literature feed the flames of discontent and lend force to every word that the ultra-radicals say and write. Bolshevism will vanish in the face of fair treatment like fog before the rising sun, but like steam, if we feed the fire and then sit on the safety valve, we are due for an explosion.

If you love liberty and fair play, and feel that Baptist principles and American traditions justify such action, will you circulate the enclosed petition? Have your church pass a resolution asking the president to declare a general amnesty for religious and political prisoners, and send to me for and circulate among your friends copies of the enclosed literature. Funds for the purchasing of more literature are needed and may be sent to my address.

"The church is on trial today." Silence in this matter will constitute a severe indictment against her. May the spirit of the Lord rest upon you as you co-operate in this work of setting the captives at liberty and ministering to those who are in prison.

Yours for general amnesty, In the name of the Lord, Paul J. MacKinney, President.

tired with today's adjournment. Among prominent representatives whose services ended were Miss Jeanette Rankin of Montana, the first woman elected to the house; Meyer London of New York socialist, and Cooper and Stafford of Wisconsin.

Investigations by both senate and house committees were numerous throughout the three sessions. Among these were the inquiry into disloyalty charges against Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, which recently ended in a vote dismissing the charges.

HEALTH BOARD DENIES REPORT OF FLU INCREASE

Average of Thirty Cases Reported Daily is Considered Low

Reports that the "flu" epidemic is gaining a new hold in the city were denied at the office of the health department this morning. According to members of the board the number of cases reported weekly totals about 30, which is considered an extremely low figure as nearly every case of la grippe is now reported and quantified as influenza as a protective measure. There were 35 cases reported yesterday morning, all of which were placed under quarantine. It is emphatically denied that the situation is worse.

Influenza claimed two more victims Saturday. Mrs. Alice Hanson, mother of Mrs. Henry Olson, 634 West Wilson street, passed away shortly after noon and her son, Ole Hanson, aged 49, died about four hours later. The deceased is survived by two sons, George and Hans Hanson of Yorkville, Ill., and three daughters, Mrs. Enos Hubbard of Yorkville; Mrs. John Skeas of Joliet, Ill., and Mrs. Henry Olson of Madison.

A double funeral service will be held from the home of the daughter, Mrs. Ole Olson, 634 West Wilson street, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The Rev. Erickson will officiate.

U. OF PENN DEAN TO LECTURE HERE

TAX PENALTY IN EFFECT Yesterday was the last day of grace allowed delinquent tax payers of the city. A penalty of two percent will now be added to all unpaid rolls. If taxes are not paid by the 15th of this month the rolls will then be placed in the hands of the sheriff for collection.

Never Kissed, but He Took A Chance and—but Read On

Where is the man who has never been kissed? To find such a chap in the hill would be quite hopeless—but to find one who is willing to kiss a strange wrinkled old woman first of anyone in the whole world—that is even more utterly hopeless.

Such a man is to appear Wednesday night when the French play, "The Baiser," a one-act comedy in verse will be presented at Lathrop hall by the French students.

Here is what happens to him: Urgele, a fairy who has been transformed into an old woman, can only regain her youth by the kiss of someone who has never kissed before. She meets Pierrot in the forest and asks him for a kiss. He gives it, and she regains her youth. He falls in love and persuades her to marry him. They plan their wedding, but Urgele hears the song of her sisters and leaves Pierrot after returning the kiss which after all is no small reward for his previous generosity. Pierrot contemplates hanging himself but decides that with so many lovely ladies in the audience he ought to live.

The characters of Pierrot and Urgele will be represented by Frances and Louis Smith.

WOODS NAMED TO SEEK WORK FOR FORMER TROOPS

Will Serve as War Department Representative at All Conferences

WASHINGTON—With the appointment today of Arthur Woods, former police commissioner of New York city as a special assistant to Secretary Baker the war department embarked upon a nationwide campaign to obtain employment for discharged soldiers.

Mr. Woods will serve as the war department representative in the Department of Labor and the Council of National Defense as well as with other agencies of the government which are seeking to restore normal conditions of employment for both soldiers and civilians who came into the government service during the war. The labor department's employment service covers the entire field of government employees who are returning to civil life and for whom work must be found. The war department will direct its attention only in aiding in obtaining employment for discharged soldiers.

Mr. Woods plans to organize for this purpose the chambers of commerce, commercial clubs, state public works official and all similar agencies interested in the subject. It may be, it was said today, that the machinery of the selective service system can be found useful in returning the troops to civil life.

VOCATION TOPICS INTEREST WOMEN

Canvass Determines Subjects For Discussion at Conference.

The annual women's vocational conference to be held Mar. 6-7-8 is the seventh of its kind at Wisconsin. Wisconsin has been a pioneer in this movement of helping college women to determine the field of work they are best suited for.

The majority of subjects to be discussed in the lectures and the round table discussions have been chosen as a result of the canvass which was conducted among university women to discover which subjects had the most interest for the women.

The program follows: Thursday, Mar. 6. 3:30—Music hall: Dean F. Louise Nardine. Opening Address. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw.

4:30—Concert room: piano solo—Eleanor Kraemer. Vocal solo—Song of Singing—Katherine Camille Mead. Helen Shalagie. Miss Tracy Copp—Public Service and Industrial Problems. Vocal Solo—"Boat Song"—Harriet Ware. Helen Harper. Prof. D. D. Leschier—Americanization.

SWEET MILK BILL IS NEXT; WHEY DROPPED

Assemblyman McClone Will Introduce New Measure in Assembly

Assemblyman McClone will ask unanimous consent of the assembly this week to introduce a bill amending the "whey butter" law to require branding as "Sweet Milk Butter." Several members have already declared they will object and McClone will then offer the bill to the committee on agriculture.

Assemblyman Chilesen served notice in the assembly Friday that if the Olson bill repealing the "Whey Butter" was killed, like Strickland W. Gillman's "Finnegan" it would come "on again" until the matter has been finally settled in justice to all. Opponents of the whey butter law declare the name itself is a detriment to the product and keeps the price below what the article is really worth.

"Whey butter" always has been misnamed," declared Assemblyman McClone today. "It is true that whey is used to a certain extent in its manufacture, but sweet milk and cream are also required, and it should be rightfully given a different and better name. I think to call it 'sweet milk butter' would serve every purpose of the so-called whey butter law and at the same time would lift the stigma which many concede there is to the present name, and would permit the farmers and cheese dealers to utilize this by-product of the cheese factory to advantage."

ORATORS PUNISH AIR IN N. O. L. TRYOUTS
